Leonor Greyl

PARIS

NATURAL HAIR TREATMENT

Founded in 1968 and established as an institution in the field of hair treatment, Leonor Greyl brand is the fruit of love between Leonor Greyl, who was enamoured of the beauty and health of hair, and Jean-Marie Greyl, her husband, an engineer with a passion for botany.

At that time already, the couple wanted to offer everyone the chance to take care for and sublimate their hair, by creating products formulated from high quality plants and natural active ingredients.

Today, Caroline, their daughter, and her husband David Thomas Brooks are working to perpetuate this family history.

The box is flanked by two vertical strips of forest imagery: the left strip shows tall, thin tree trunks reaching upwards, and the right strip shows a dense forest floor with moss and fallen leaves. The bottom of the page features a decorative border of white, stylized evergreen trees against a dark green background with soft, out-of-focus light spots.
